You are always so kind to me!"*

*"Harriet, dear," said Emma, smiling,
"friendship does not depend on one side only.
You must not think me better than I am.
If we are to be real friends, you must allow me to tell you when I think you are mistaken."*

*"Oh! I should like that, I am sure. I shall always want your advice,

"Well," said Emma playfully, "if I am to be a real friend, the most important thing is to think for yourself and be happy in your own way."

149. Battenberg layer cake – to given recipe

For the cake

450g unsalted butter, softened, plus extra for greasing

300g caster sugar

6 eggs

250g self-raising flour

50g ground almonds, plus 1 tbsp

4 tbsp milk

1 tbsp pink food colouring

1 tbsp yellow food colouring

350g icing sugar

120g apricot jam

2x 20cm round cake tins

600g loaf tin

Baking paper

Method

Preheat the oven to 180c/160c fan/gas mark 4 and grease and line the 2 cake tins and the loaf tin with baking paper. In a large mixing bowl, whisk together 300g of the butter and the caster sugar for 2 mins. Whisk in the eggs, one at a time, until completely integrated. Fold the flour and 50g of ground almonds into the mixture, using a wooden spoon. Mix in 2tbsp of the milk.

Transfer half of the mixture into another mixing bowl. Add the pink food colouring to one bowl and the yellow food colouring to the other. Mix both thoroughly until the colours are consistent. Transfer 3 tbsp of the pink mixture into one side of the loaf tin, then add 3 tbsp of the yellow mixture into the other side of the loaf tin. Place in the oven and bake for 10-15 mins until an inserted metal skewer comes out clean.

Transfer the remaining pink mixture to one of the cake tins and flatten it out. Place the yellow mixture in the other cake tin and flatten it out. Bake for 20-25 mins until an inserted metal skewer comes out clean. Allow the cakes to cool. In a large bowl, place the remaining butter and mix in the icing sugar gradually. Mix in the remaining milk and whisk for 1-2 mins, using an electric whisk, until smooth. Next, whisk in the 1 tbsp of ground almonds.

Once cool, cut any domed sponge from the round cakes so they are level, then halve the cakes horizontally, to make 4 equal layers in total. Place 1 pink layer on a serving plate and spread with a third of the apricot jam. Layer over a quarter of the icing and repeat the layers, alternating the colours, until the last circle of cake is on the top. Retaining a third of the leftover icing, spread the remaining icing on top of the cake, then spoon 10 rounded tsp of the icing around the edge of the cake.

Cut the loaf cake into 2cm squared cubes and place a cube of cake on top of the icing mounds.
